Russia will ask the United Nations Security Council to brand the action of the Netherlands in Indonesia a threat to peace, opening the way for drastic steps under the Charter. In making this announcement yesterday, the Soviet representative said he would introduce his own resolution. Observers felt such a move would lessen the chances of passing the motion introduced jointly by the United States, Colombia and Syria. Further Dutch gains were reported in the Indonesian fighting.

On the Asiatic mainland Chinese Communists were fighting in Tangku and had encircled Tientsin.

REDUCE SPEED WHEN DRIVING ON THE ICE

Advise Motorists To Know In Advance How To Handle Cars

DRIVE "DEFENSIVELY"

HARRISBURG, Dec. 24 — Stop skidding yourself—Drive at reduced speeds, and know in advance how to handle your car safely on icy road surfaces, motorists were warned today by T. Elmer Transeau, Director of Highway Safety.

"Reduction in speed is absolutely essential to safe driving on ice-covered pavement. The driver who fails to reduce speed to compensate for sleet or ice conditions endangers others as well as himself," Transeau declared.

"The wise winter motorist drives defensively. He tries to anticipate the next move of those drivers ahead of him, behind him, and even those parked at the curb. He also expects pedestrians to appear not only at the corners but even in mid-block."

"With these expectations in mind, the experienced and skillful driver appreciates the need for making extra allowances on icy pavement."

Transeau listed these suggestions for safety on ice:

1. When starting your vehicle, go slowly. Trying for a fast get-away.

TRAFFIC HEAVY

Pedestrian and motor vehicular traffic in the Mill street district, last evening, was so heavy that traffic officers prohibited left-hand turns off Mill street into Wood street during the rush hours. This was due to the heavy pedestrian traffic crossing the intersection. Four traffic officers were on duty.

EXPLAINS RENT LEASES WHICH EXPIRE DEC. 31

Area Rent Director Tells What Happens to Units Under Lease

RENTS TO BE SAME

With most of the voluntary rent leases under the 1947 Housing and Rent Act expiring December 31, 1948, Joseph T. Turchi, Area Rent Director of the Philadelphia Office, today explained what happens to dwelling units covered by such leases and what their maximum rent ceilings will be.

"First, as to what will happen to units covered by such leases," Mr. Turchi said: "Under the provisions of the Act, such units will automatically go back under rent control, with the tenant and the landlord having the same rights and protections as apply to the controlled units that were not under lease."

"As to the maximum rents for such units: The maximum rent will be the same as that provided in the expiring leases—provided the leases were valid."

Mr. Turchi also pointed out that persons having leases under the 1947 Act, as well as those who have no leases, may execute leases under the 1948 Act during the remainder of this month. Such leases must be voluntary on the part of both tenant and landlord, must be in writing, must run through December 31, 1949, must be executed by December 31, 1948, must take effect no later than January 1, 1949, and filed with the Area Rent Office within 15 days from the date of execution.

Trenton Resumes Pumping Water From Delaware

TRENTON, Dec. 24—If Trenton's water tasted like Philadelphia's "chlorine cocktails" to you yesterday—you were right.

The city's water supply was doctored heavily—and rerouted—to give Trentonians as mild a tasting beverage as possible to offset pollution of Trenton's raw supply in the Delaware.

The pure-water threat began Wednesday morning when water works chemist Joseph Y. L. Reid noticed a heavy infiltration of phenol—carbolic acid—in the river water intake at the Calhoun St. pumping and filter station.

He immediately shut off that supply, switched to the city reservoir at Pennington and Parkside avenues. There was no interruption of water service to city homes.

The reservoir supply got down to a less-than-comfortable margin of eight feet, so chemist Reid decided to switch back to the Delaware supply at 11 a. m. yesterday.

However, to make the city's water as pure and as palatable as possible, he doctored it in a way that Philadelphia's water experts couldn't.

The Delaware supply, polluted with phenol, was mixed with heavy dosages of chlorine, then pumped to the Pennington avenue reservoir, where it was mixed with pure water, then pumped into the city's mains.

The result was a beverage spiked liberally with chlorine, but which had no vicious medicinal taste and odor common to phenol-infested water.

Reid said the city will continue the mixing and pumping operation until pollution of the Delaware's raw water supply ends. He said the pollution has been traced to coke-oven steel mills in the Bethlehem (Pa.) area.

A full weeks pay was given each employee of Manhattan Soap Company yesterday noon when a party was staged at the plant. Dinner was served to the group at that time.

The sum of $5 to $25 was the bonus found by Hunter-Wilson Distilling Co. employees in their Christmas stockings hung at the plant. The amount was based upon the length of employment.

Bancroft-Hickey Manufacturing Company closed its plant early yesterday, and the employees have a three day holiday, today, Saturday and Sunday. Employees who have a full year or more of service have received a weeks pay, and those employed under a year were granted a proportionate bonus.

Predicts Combining of Western Military Governments in Germany

Berlin—Gen. Lucius D. Clay predicted today that the Western Military governments in Germany will be combined within "a couple of months." Proposals for unification have been held up by French objections, and the matter is now at government level. Some observers have expressed doubt that the French will be persuaded to establish a unified command. But Clay said he expected quick approval of plans for West German unity, with the creation of a West German state to follow.

Order Immediate Cease-Fire in Indonesia

Paris—The United Nations Security Council, acting to bring peace on Christmas eve to the Far East, today ordered an immediate cease-fire in Indonesia. The Council rejected, however, a United States demand that the Dutch yield territory taken from the native Republicans in the six-day-old war. Russia and the Ukraine joined Argentina, Belgium, France and China in abstaining from voting on the American demand. This gave it only five votes, two short of the necessary majority.

Pope Makes Powerful Peace Appeal

Rome—Pope Pius XII in a powerful Christmas appeal for peace laid before the world today, a four-point program to banish "the nightmare of a new war." As one step, he urged that all war-makers be quarantined in "infamous solitude." The Pontiff, with new fighting raging in Palestine, expressed the hope of "the whole Christian world" for an international regime to protect the shrines of the Holy Land. Pope Pius, in his annual Christmas Eve broadcast, condemned all preparations for war, saying "those who argue that preparation for war is necessary to maintain peace are putting peace in peril." He urged full support of the United Nations. In a clear attack on Russia, he struck out against Communist ideology and the "Orthodox" Catholic faith which is the main religion in the Soviet Union and most of its satellites.

CHRISTMAS

Christmas is a time when heaven and earth are most near in convocation because it is a season when faith is supplemented by works. Christianity, often seemingly dormant, then flames its brightest.

Saint Paul said that faith without works is dead. Through faith we subscribe to a set of high principles. But principles are never established by a mere static devotion to them. The philosopher who spends his life in contemplation serves only himself. In dynamic action is fulfillment to be found.

Every Christmas gift is a token of personal thought, of unselfish interest in the joy of others. We see the gleam in the eye of the child and feel the hand of the adult to whom we have extended good will.

One frequently hears the wry observation that Christmas is a materialism—a vying of people in equal circumstances to turn gift for gift, a rivalry in generosity where generosity is plus. But these four runarounds miss the vitality of Christmas. They ignore the pull it has on human hearts to do for others.

The fact that Christmas is the culmination of all unselfish and aritable impulses escapes them. It is the one dependable time of a year when great heart overcomes canny head and the human mechanism comes nearest functioning as providence would have it.

Faith is a beautiful thing, and Christmas we glimpse it with the poetry of all the ages. But its more splendid. They are the one force that can rear on the foundation of faith an edifice worthy of man's best aspirations. He who works for the happiness of others, even though he has a hazy realization of his own involvement of the mysteries, is better man than one who shouts faith to the world and does nothing about it.

Christmas vouchsafes a tiny portion of the fullness of life if we surrender ourselves to the spiritual teachings of the ages. It is the joy of this greatest of seasons. Its tragedy is that the Christmas spirit does not endure.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

A man of few words—and a short and simple one—once gave a Christmas message. No one would ever have thought of it as a poet. The adjective most appropriate to his mode of speech had been laconic. But, show or other, the message wrote turned out to be both potent and poetic.

Christmas is not a time or a season, he wrote, "but a state of mind. To cherish peace and goodwill, to be plenteous in mercy, is to have the real spirit of Christmas. If we think on these things, there will be born in us and over us will shine a sending its gleam of hope to the world."

That is the message, in its entirety. It was written just 21 years ago at the White House by John Coolidge.

There Came Wise Men...
By CLARK KINNAIRD
Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem.

Saying, Where is He that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen His star in the east, and are come to worship Him...

Herod could be compared to Abdullah, the ruler of Transjordan today, in some respects. Herod, whose racial origin was Arab, was a ruler in the homeland of the Jews by suzerainty of a foreign power. In his case it was Rome. Once he was driven out of Palestine. He took refuge in Rome, made friends and went back under Rome's protection, bearing an appointment from Marc Antony. Whereupon he proceeded to make himself master of Judaea and Jerusalem.

When Herod the king had heard all these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea: for thus it is written by the prophet, "And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel."

It has been remarked as peculiar that Bethlehem, which was the place where David the great ideal king, hero and poet of the Jewish people, was born and grew up and which had other cherished associations, never rose to any influence or became capital of Judaea, but remained "an ordinary village."

There seemed no particular reason why, instead, Hebron or Jerusalem became capital. Though more isolated than those two places, Bethlehem was no more so than Gibeah, Ramah and others similarly situated which became famous. Nevertheless, it was unimportant and small—"O little town of Bethlehem" in that year 747 by the Roman calendar.

Then Herod, who had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young Child; and when ye have found Him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship Him also.

When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young Child was.

Many conjectures have been offered regarding this unique star of Bethlehem—that it was a conjunction of Mars, Jupiter and Saturn; that it was a comet; that it was a nova, or exploding star. But it may just as well have been what Christians prefer to believe—a miracle that occurred once and will not occur again, a mystery just as precious and inexplicable to mankind as the blade of grass was to Darwin.

When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

And when they came into the house, they saw the young Child with Mary His Mother, and fell down, and worshipped Him; and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts: gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

According to one tradition these wise men, or Magi, were named Gaspar, Melchior and Balthazar. In the east of that time, such perfumes and incenses as myrrh and frankincense were, like spices, as precious as gold—luxuries only for the rich and royalty. But the gifts also had an intentional symbolism: gold was the emblem of royalty; frankincense a token of divinity, and myrrh was a prophetic allusion to the persecution unto death which awaited the Man of Sorrows.

It was not just the Jews of the homeland who waited hopefully for the Messiah promised by the prophet Isaiah. Throughout the lands immediately to the east, men were looking for the advent of a great king who would rise among the Jews. The country whence came the Magi is a matter of conjecture, but their following the guidance of a star suggests they came from the region of Chaldea, where astronomy was highly developed at that time. The people of that region were most like the Jews, in religion, of all nations in the world. They believed in one God, they had no idols, they worshipped light as the best symbol of God. Hence their affinity with the Jews in their expectations regarding the coming of a Saviour. Hence the significance they immediately attached to the appearance of the phenomenal star.

In coming to seek Him, the wise men from the east expressed a feeling which, we know from the Roman writers Virgil, Tacitus and Suetonius, also had been for a long time diffused through the West.

And lo, the star which they saw in the east, went before them, till they came and stood over where the young Child was." A drawing which illustrated a Christmas greeting a hundred years ago.

"Merry" Christmas Cookies

A good way to wish your family and friends the best of the holiday season is with Christmas cookies gay in shape and decoration.

An attractive tray of Christmas cookies always goes with enjoyable holiday entertaining. The refreshments are ready in a moment when friends come calling to see what Santa brought. You can letter the "Merry Christmas" from cookie dough by squeezing it through a pastry tube.

Make the Christmas trees from a rolled cookie dough. Tender cookies are the result of working with a soft dough. When you roll it out, use a pastry cloth, so that the dough will not stick or pick up extra flour. These cookies may be frosted and decorated with Christmas candies, nuts, and colored sugars.

Spritz cookies are shaped with a cookie press into rosettes, bells, stars, trees, depending upon your molding plates. They may also be piped with a pastry tube. These cookies are nice to hang on the tree, though these are decorations that usually disappear long before the New Year!

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

SPRITZ COOKIES

Is There A Santa Claus?

Originally printed September 21, 1897, New York Sun

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification at its faithful author is numbered among the friends of The Sun:

Dear Editor:
"I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says 'If you see in The Sun it's so.' Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

"VIRGINIA O'HANLON, '115 West Ninety-fifth Street,' Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by a skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world that he inhabits, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its greatest beauty and joy. Alas! how many would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be dreary as if there were no Virgins. There would be no childlike faith, then, no poetry, no romance, no make tolerable this existence. It should have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire a team to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see him, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most wonderful things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see.

Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that is no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world. You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not even the strongest man, not even the strongest strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory behind. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing so real as abiding faith.

To Santa Claus! Thank God! he is real, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, may, times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

"Temperatures just below freezing make icy roads more slick and dangerous than zero temperatures, because sleet or rain which freezes on the ground is wet ice, while ice around zero is comparatively dry," Transeau said.

National Safety Council tests, he said, revealed that use of full tire chains on rear wheels will reduce stopping distance on glare ice by about 50 per cent. Chains prevent traffic tie-ups by providing traction often needed for starting, or climbing a grade.

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

Doelp to the presidency of Buckingham Farmers' Club at the reorganization Saturday evening at the headquarters of Tyro Hall Grange, Buckingham.

Other officers named at the meeting, attended by about 100 members and guests, were as follows: Vice-President, Newton Beck; secretary, Mrs. Emily Stover; treasurer, Paul Nappes, and members of executive committee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Spratt and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett. A supper was served before the business session.

A 64-year-old Bedminster widow, who had not been seen by neighbors for more than a week, was found dead in bed Saturday night by State Police of Doylestown sub-station. She was identified by a relative as Mrs. Pauline Kahning, who lived alone about a mile from Bedminster. Dr. Raymond Tice, of Quakertown, deputy coroner of Bucks county, who viewed the body, insured a certificate of death due to a stroke. Dr. Tice said Mrs. Kahning had been dead for at least a week.

ALMONDS TOASTED IN OVEN HAVE A BETTER FLAVOR IT IS CLAIMED

Salted almonds prepared by "toasting" (or roasting) in the oven proved better in flavor and kept longer without becoming rancid than those cooked in oil and then sprinkled with salt, according to the usual method, tests at one of the experiment stations showed. Judges who tasted and compared the almonds cooked in oil and in the oven, preferred the latter. Moreover, when salt is added to hot oil-cooked almonds kept in a covered jar at room temperature (70 to 75 F.) had become very rancid in less than six months while those cooked in the oven remained fresh in flavor and excellent in condition.

A satisfactory method of oven-toasting suggested by the scientists is first to blanch the kernels—that is, put them in hot water to loosen the skins and then slip off the skins; and then mix the moist nuts with salt. Place in shallow metal pans and heat in an oven at about 400 F. until light amber in color—about 20 minutes—stirring frequently to prevent scorching.

Today's Quiet Moment

By The Rev. George E. Boswell
Rector
St. James' Episcopal Church

Merciful God and Father, who hast given Thy only begotten Son to take our nature upon him, grant that we may joyfully receive Him. We pray that Thy Holy Child, born for our salvation, may truly enter our hearts, and that we may be messengers of the great and glad tidings. We ask it in His name who was born many centuries ago in order to redeem us. Amen.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wetherill, Green Lane.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELDERSON

Greetings . . . at no other time during the year do any of us derive the pleasure, satisfaction and contentment we receive from the joys of Christmas. The pleasant associations of good feeling and love for our fellowman are in evidence everywhere, and from these associations comes a stronger confidence in those around us. Christmas is important! It is the season of sincere good will, the spirit which should go with us the three hundred and sixty-four other days of the year. Let us pledge ourselves toward this goal. It is a challenge which every sportsman will accept. May the holidays hold untold happiness for all.

Meeting . . . next Tuesday, December 28, the Edgely Rod & Gun Club will hold its last meeting of 1948 in the Headley Manor Fire Station, at 8 p. m. I know chairman Joe King would appreciate a big turnout at this meeting. Non-members have a cordial invitation to attend.

Gaining momentum . . . Pennsylvania is not the only state which has recognized the importance of pollution abatement in its streams and rivers. West Virginia has served notice on its industries in the headwaters of the Potomac to stop polluting this famous river or face court action, according to the Wildlife Management Institute. Maryland has pledged its support, and the co-operation of Virginia is being sought by the other two states concerned.

Too many . . . from The Federation News, official publication of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, comes this item from its December issue: "Too many bear hunters are destroying their future sport, thereby preventing pleasurable days ahead in the years to come," was the comment from Ross L. Lefler, president of the Pennsylvania Game Commission in commenting on the 1948 bear season.

"According to Mr. Lefler, reports from the Commission's field forces show that at least 48 cub bears were illegally killed during the first two days of the season and this was referred to as 'wantonly killing the babies' and ruining their future gunning. Game officials claim there is no excuse for killing one of these young animals, some weighing as little as 30 pounds, about the size of a large raccoon, inasmuch as they are much smaller than legal bears and are easily recognizable in the field.

"Several very large animals have been reported and the first two days' bag was more than that of 1947. During the first two days 289 bears were killed in Pennsylvania, compared with 281 animals last year."

HULMEVILLE

Guests from Wichita, Kan., were entertained this week by Mrs. Anna Schmidt and daughter, Mrs. Mildred Riley. The guests were another daughter of Mrs. Schmidt, namely Mrs. George Snyder and her sons, Paul and James.

Nomination of officers will be in order at the December meeting of William Penn Fire Co. in the fire station on Monday evening at eight o'clock.

A Christmas dinner party was arranged on Wednesday evening by members of a local sewing club. Those who partook of a turkey dinner at the Keystone Hotel, Bristol.

are: Mrs. Fred Kohler, Jr., Mrs. Ferdinand Reetz, Mrs. William Keen, Mrs. Warren Bilger, Jr., Mrs. Horace Tomlinson, Mrs. Matthew Amel, and Mrs. John Dougherty. Later the group gathered at the home of Mrs. Dougherty at Winder Village, for an exchange of gifts, the revealing of identities of "Pollyannas," and the serving of refreshments by candle-light amid Christmas decorations. Last week members of the club conducted a housewarming for Mrs. Dougherty, presenting her with a table lamp.

Following rehearsal last evening members of the junior choir gathered in the parish room of Grace Episcopal Church. They exchanged Yule gifts and partook of refreshments at the Keystone Hotel, Bristol.

TWO BASKETBALL TILTS SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY NEXT

BRISTOL BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Schedule for Sunday
ROHM & HAAS - FALLS ALUMNI
ST. ANN'S - MORRISVILLE

Standing	Won	Lost
Falls Alumni	1	0
Franklin	1	0
St. Ann's	1	0
Fifth Ward	1	1
Proby's	1	1
Hibernians	1	1
Rohm & Haas	0	1
Morrisville	0	2

Two games will be played in the Bristol Basketball League Sunday afternoon on the Rohm & Haas court. In the first tilt, Rohm & Haas will meet the Falls Alumni aggregation, while in the nightcap, St. Ann's plays the Morrisville Hoopers. Opening tapoff is scheduled for two o'clock.

Rohm & Haas will be seeking its first triumph of the season, it having lost to St. Ann's in its opening contest. Manager Jack Stein held several practice sessions during the layoff and his team also participated in a preliminary game at the Trenton Arena. Manager Stein feels that his combination of "Angie" Everitt, "Chuck" Klein, "Jim" Egli, Paul Roby, and Jesse Vanzant will take over the Falcons. "Bill" Leigh's Falls contingent is featuring the Lynch twins, of Tullytown. These two youths paved the way for the initial win over Morrisville and are anxious to get going against the chemical mixers.

St. Ann's, managed by Fred Barbetta, will be after its second win. The Purple and Gold appeared strong in its inaugural contest and since then Manager Barbetta has added Ken Stoll to increase the scoring power of his combination. The winless Morrisville Hoopers have added several players to its roster in an effort to get on the right side of the ledger. Captain "Mickey" Stradling is confident in his boys and feels that once they get going they will cause plenty of headaches to the teams of the circuit.

Tangerines Tops For Holiday Snacks

PLUMP little Florida tangerines with zip-off peel hand holiday hostesses one of the brightest ideas for company snacks. Serve the traditional Christmas fruit with a platter of cheese and mugs of hot Florida Toddy (see recipe below). Guests will welcome the change from too-rich food featured at so many parties — you'll love the ease of preparation. Feature tangerines for dessert along with a tray of cheese and crackers. The fruit and cheese idea couldn't be more appropriate than during the holidays when so many rich foods are included in menus. Or, follow this recipe for a fruit cup in which tangerines lend a refreshing flavor.

Tangerine Fruit Cup
8 Florida tangerines
1 cup red grapes
2 red apples
1/2 cup powdered sugar
Peel tangerine, remove membrane. Seed grapes and cut in halves. Wash and core but do not peel apples. Cut in quarters and then in slices, lengthwise. Combine fruit and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Florida Toddy
2 cups Florida orange juice
1 cup cranberry juice cocktail
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon whole cloves
2 sticks cinnamon
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
6 Florida orange slices
Combine all ingredients except orange slices in sauce pan. Place over low heat, bring to boiling point; simmer 5 minutes; strain. Pour into heated bowl or pitcher. Float orange slices on top. If desired, 1 tablespoon red cinnamon candies may be used for color; omit cinnamon sticks. YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.
